

Relationships with Adults: Video 2

Teacher: Well, this week we had talked about focusing on how do you know when she likes something. So we gathered a few things from your living room to check them out. And so can you tell me about these items, this one in particular?

Mother: Sure. She likes this. This is pretty fun. So she'll probably -- [Both talking] Do you want to bring it closer? What's this? What's this? What's this, Em? What's that?

Teacher: Can you see her face? She's just lighting up.

Mother: She likes it.

Teacher: She says, "Mommy knows."

Mother: Are you smiling?

[Music plays]

[Laughter]

Teacher: So, we got these beads. What's your prediction on these beads?

Mother: I don't think she's gonna like those very much.

Teacher: Oh, Emma, we're gonna trade it out. We're gonna trade this toy out, little one.

Mother: What's in there? What's in there?

Teacher: She's smiling now.

Mother: I can see her. Yeah, what do you think? So, I feel like she shows more interest than she usually does, but she's not, like, smiling really like she did at that toy. Okay, so you liked this better than I thought you would. You liked it better than I thought you would.

Teacher: Tell me about this one. What do you think about this?

Mother: That I think she might throw. What do you think? [Laughter] You still have one left over. You still have one left over.

Teacher: She's telling us, "No, thank you." But I wonder if you would shake it in front of her or move one of those.

Mother: What do you think? You see the purple flower? Do you? Do you see the purple flower? What do you think?

Teacher: What's she telling us?

Mother: I think she's like, "No. What do you do with this? This is not my thing."

Teacher: So this you might be right about this one still.

Mother: We'll have to show Daddy how you play with these toys tonight. He'll say, "What? I didn't know you liked those."

Teacher: He'll be surprised, too.

Mother: Yeah. You can show him how they work.
