

Vocabulary: Preschooler

Ian: What scientists do dig the bones of dinosaurs?

Teacher: What did you say? Oh, that's the paleontologist.

Ian: Paleontologists dig dinosaurs because some dinosaurs -- they're dead, turned to bones, and then puts in mud.

Teacher: You know a lot about that, Ian. You're digging in the sand? Okay. Well, um, have you seen any that you've buried or that you've -- that you've unearthed?

Ian: Um, I...

Teacher: That you found underground?

Ian: I don't find any dinosaurs, but I found a skeleton.

Teacher: Did you find a skeleton of a stegosaurus?

Ian: Yeah.

Teacher: You did?! That would be perfect!

Ian: I found one.

Teacher: Could we give one to Sophia for her project?

Ian: I found one. Lookit.

Teacher: Very -- Wow! You're a very talented paleontologist.

Ian: I found this dinosaur.

Teacher: Wow.

Ian: I put them together.

Teacher: Isabel loves it, too.

She's looking right at it.
